COLD FEET. Cold feet are a sign of imperfect circulation, or want of vigor of constitution. No one but is well whose feet are habitually cold. When the chest is equally distributed to every part of the body, there is generally a good reflection, if there is coldness, and that coldness, there may be sure that is nature is at work at some other part of the system, and there is a fever—that is, matters here oppressed.

To all who are inclined to be cold in the feet, we recommend that the first thing on getting up in the morning, put your feet in a basin of cold water, and as soon as it is way to the outside, keep them in half a minute in winter, for two minutes in summer, rubbing them both vigorously, we say dry, and look to the fire, if convenient, if cold weather, put on every pair of the feet to have dry on your hand, then put on your socks or stockings. On going to bed, at night, drink off your morning, and hold the feet to the fire for fifteen minutes, until perfectly dry, and get right into bed.—This is a most excellent operation, and fully repays for the trouble of it in the sweet sleep well or rational night with cold feet. In the cold all the year with the feet to the fire.—Never, step from your bed with the naked feet on an uncarpeted floor. I have known it to be the exciting cause of months of sickness. Wear woolen, cotton, or silk stockings, whichever keep your feet most comfortable; do not let the expense or weather be your guide, for different persons require different sorts of, and it is good for a person whose feet are always cold. The donkey who had broken off with his head by swimming a river, saving his companions, who was loaded down with a sack of wool, and the latter had "having no more sense than a woman or woman, he plunged in, and in a moment the wool absorbed the water, increased the burden many fold, and lost him to the bottom.—Half Journal of Health.

AT HAVANA, at last accounts, says the Journal of Commerce, an order for levying a stamp tax on sea-going boats, promulgated by the Governor General was exciting a strong feeling of dissatisfaction. By this order, every boat, of every class, from the largest down to the smallest, must be numbered, and otherwise no claim of indebtedness based upon accounts is enforceable. For each of its first and last leaves, $8 are exacted, and for every other sheet, $2.

ANTI-MASONIC PREDICTIONS IN TEXAS.—The Texas papers give particulars of the proposed mission of some days recently held in Travis county, for the purpose of taking measures to expel the members of the Methodist Church North who are accused of being abolitionists. At one meeting a committee of five was appointed to wait upon Bishop Janes with a warning. They performed their duty faithfully, and the Bishop was not confined in the Penitentiary for preaching in church. It was also resolved that the Methodist Church North could not be tolerated in Texas, and that it must be put down by force if necessary. A committee was appointed to draft a set resolutions, to be acted on at an adjourned meeting.

GUNNER IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—An application recently had to Congress for the renewal of a patent to an easy-chair invented by a citizen of South Carolina, caused some discussion, during which Mr. Hale, of New-Hampshire, made a reader hit on the applicant in the following speech:

"I hope this bill will pass. In the first place I am very much in favor of the article that is patented. It is an easy chair. In the second place South Carolina troubles the Patent Office but very little, and I think it would be very ungracious to refuse this application from South Carolina now. I hope it will pass."

We wonder if this was the same patentee of whom a good story was quite current when we were last. Old Judge Evans, the late senator from South Carolina, was a very eccentric, sincere and venerable old gentleman, who would go, notwithstanding gently, mild and modest, about every one and issue very decided points of character, among which was an intense State pride and a strong bias in favor of the institutions and even of the weaknesses and defects of the old State. To him South Carolina was the ne plus ultra of everything admirable, great and good. Her errors and defects were, to him, virtues and endowments.—And though it was not in the nature of the man to hate anybody or anything, he cherished a dislike to every South Carolinian repugnant to his traditions, likes and customs in New England. For any South Carolinian to possess any of his qualities, the accomplishments of native of the people at that section was in the view of the old Senator, a serious breach of faith and duty to his honored and beloved old Palmetto State. Now it happened that Judge Evans was applied to by a young South Carolinian, who had invented some ingenious, mechanical contrivance which he desired to have patented. The young applicant introduced himself as the son of an old friend and fellow parishioner of the Judge, and begged his aid and skill in obtaining his letters patent. The venerable Senator, rubbing his spectacles, and fixing his eyes in wonder and amazement at the ingenious young Carolinian, in a mild but emphatic tone interrogated him as follows:

"You are the son of Colonel H——, St.——Parish, South Carolina, who was born in the said parish?"

"I am sir," promptly and proudly responded the young gentleman.

"Young gentleman of Colonel H——, who served under General Sumpter in the Revolutionary war?"

"Yes sir," was the prompt reply.

"Your mother was the daughter of Mrs Nancy ——, who lived to her nineties in the evolution to prevent the British occupying it. Mr. Archbishop enthusiastically exclaimed the representative of one of Carolina's proudest families.

And you continued the patriotic old Scotsman have been educated at the —— academy —— and instructed in the principles during a period when knowledge proper to your position and your birth and fame?

Xavier modestly remarked the downcast eyes of youth.

The orator crowned the Judge in one of his happy flights and indignation at how little you often turn your back upon all the traditions, principles and associations of your State upon the sentiments and principles of your family your ancestors and countrymen and degrade yourself to the level of a common wooden nutmeg, hawked by itinerant peddlers!

It is gratifying to know that the young Carolinian was not elected by the torch-bearer in which his Senator presented the exhortatory of his conduct, that he abandoned his application and returned to South Carolina with a view of standing for Congress in his District at the next election.—New Orleans Delta

The Sickles Case.

Washington, 12th.

Judge Crawford took his seat on the Bench at 10 A M, and Mr Sickles was brought in and placed at the desk immediately. The Rev. Dr Paine, pastor of the Episcopal Church on Lafayette Square, occupied a seat among the prisoner's counsel, and Rev. Mr Haley also occupied a seat near the prisoner. Mr Woodbridge, who had figured so conspicuously in the case, occupied a seat near Mr Sickles' father. He is a tall, powerful built man, of some 36 years of age. He lost the use of his lower limbs by an accident, and has consequently to use crutches. He wears a thick moustache but no whiskers, and is a resolute looking man.

John J McElhone was the first witness called for the defence and was examined by Mr Brady.

Rev. Mr Pyne examined.—To Mr. Brady—I am a clergyman of the Episcopal Church.—I reside in the city of Washington, and have resided here 11 years. I know both Mr Sickles and his wife. I made their acquaintance 12 months ago.

Question—Did you and your lady visit their house?

Witness—We did not.

Question—Did you?

Witness—I visited it on one occasion, and saw the person of Mr Sickles. I saw him on Saturday preceding the day of Mr Key's death. It was about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. I was coming from the capital in a carriage with my son. As we were passing Lafayette Square, my attention was called by my son to Mr Sickles' house, who was passing. I was struck by his appearance and called my son's attention to it. I thought there was a wildness about Mr Sickles' appearance on that occasion. He seemed to be like a mad wild man in some great trouble of some kind.

Mr Stanton called the attention of the Court and jury to the fact that the opera glass stood the case exactly.

Rev. J. Walker examined—I have resided in this district many years; I was in the city on Sunday the 27th of Feb; I had known Mr Sickles several years but had not seen him for 6 or 8 months prior to that date; it was either 5 or 10 minute after 5 o'clock; I saw him in his own house. He appeared excited; there was something strange and unusual about it; his voice was somewhat different from the manner in which I had usually heard him speak; he advanced and took me by the hand; I spoke to him and said "a thousand thanks for coming to see me under these circumstances." He had scarcely repeated these words when I saw a great change in his appearance; he became very much convulsed indeed; he threw himself into a chair and covered his face with his hands; he then broke out into an agony of emotion, and uncalmly sounds, the most remarkable I ever heard—something like sobbing, interrupted by violent sobbing. From his convulsed appearance he was in the act of weeping. His collection appeared to me very frightful, causing me so much that I thought I could not much longer be a witness to such a scene. He was in fulgent exclamations about disgrace having been brought on his house and family. He seemed particularly to dwell on the disgrace brought upon his child. I also think the conversation lasted ten minutes, on average, to passby him. I turned to him to go for a physician myself, but he would not stop with me in the violent state he was in. I was in the house only a few minutes when I left. He seemed to be in a state of violent excitement.

Mr Sickles during the statement of this witness was evidently affected, pressing his face into his hands and profusely shedding tears. E. B. Hall, of Prince Bell Inn, on each side of Mr Sickles' counsel, together with others, accompanied him from the Court. The witness (particularly and many of the spectators were moved to tears. The scene was one of deep interest. In scene two minutes Mr Sickles was brought back into Court, his countenance still indicating extreme mental suffering and the consciousness of his whole appearance awakening strong sympathy in the breasts of all who saw him. His father was much affected by his condition.

Mrs Sickles' confession was offered in evidence.

Washington, April 12.

Lord Lyons to-day presented to the President his credentials as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of Her Britannic Majesty. In doing so he gave utterance to the most profound feelings of friendship of his government for that of the United States, and expressed the hope that the ties of amity would be drawn still closer. The President warmly reciprocated the sentiments and manifested his interview was of more than usually cordial character.

Although the government has nothing more than telegraphic accounts concerning the resignations of the Juarez government by Mr Mc Lane, it gives full credit to the intelligence, enough has transpired to warrant the assertion that Senor Mata will be received as Minister to the United States on his return to Washington.

Hon John Letcher the democratic candidate for Governor of Virginia is here en route to begin the canvass in the central and southern portions of the State.

More business than usual is now being transacted in the Interior department, occupying the attention of the Secretary somewhat late at night.

The receipts of the Patent Office last month are stated to be about fourteen thousand dollars over the expenses.

The case of O'Flinn, Postmaster of Detroit, about which there has been much interest of late, has been investigated so far that it is thought he will resign.

The Republicans propose firing 100 guns to-morrow afternoon, in honor of Jefferson's birthday and the Republican victories in the recent state and municipal elections.

LOCAL AND MAINE NEWS.

Concert Last Evening.—The programme presented last evening at the Anniversary Concert of the Citizens' Cornet Band, under the direction of Mr. Horace R. Streeter, was well arranged and admirably executed. The selections were such as to bring out the strength of the Band and show the peculiar excellencies of the professional and amateur talent engaged—while at the same time the music was of a character and expression sufficiently varied to please a general audience. The execution of the pieces was highly gratifying to the audience, and elicited so far as we heard, a unanimous expression of pleasure not only from the audience at large, but from those who have made music a study, and who are justly considered as persons of taste and culture.

The programme embraced the following pieces:

The Etappen Quickstep, of Bergen, rendered by the Band. Kreutzer's Glee, "While all is Hushed." Duet-Concerto, with variations, arranged with orchestra accompaniments, by Streeter (Into B♭) by F. E. Appleton.—Quartette, "Mary of the Valley." A violin solo of De Beriot's, by Wiseart. Trio of the Violin, Piano and Cello, by Wm. F. Davenport and Appleton. A Quickstep of Streeter's by the Band. Glee "Hail, Smiling Morn."—One of Mozart's Duets on the piano, (two-in-one.) Mad. Zimmerman and H. Chase. Quartette, "Hearts and Homes." Grand Solo on the flute by Tuleu, F. E. Appleton. Trio "The Fairies." Finale—Hail Columbia—by the Band.

Bowdoin Military.—The Advertiser says that at a meeting of the Bowdoin Militia, held in King Chapel, the following officers were elected for the ensuing campaign: Major General, Charles Saunders, Lawrence; Maj. Adjutant General, Franklin F. Hutchins, Fryeburg; Chaplain, Frank W. Sterne, Bangor; Surgeon General, William L. Crowell, Portland; Drum Major, George O. Mould; Lieutenant, Captain, Henry M. King, Portland; 1st Lieutenant, George B. Kennison, Houlton; 2d Lieutenant, Josiah A. Temple, Brunswick.

A passenger train ran over the Somerset and Kennebec Railroad, yesterday afternoon, during the first since the accident from the slide in Vassalboro.

Improved Mode of Handing Salts.—The Portland Advertiser of Saturday says:

There came near Nova Scotia was the centre of attraction yesterday afternoon. Quite a large number assembled to witness the performance of the Cuttingham Patent Rig. The experiments were very successful. The process of reefing was the main point of interest, and the way was performed highly to the satisfaction of a group of "landlubbers," in whose vicinity we happened to stand. It took, we believe, just three minutes from the time the topsail was lowered, until it was hoisted single, double and three reefed. The time occupied in reducing from a full sail to a single reef was five seconds—to a close reef seven seconds. The work was all done on deck.

Large Robbery.—New York, April 11.—The sale of the President and Cashier of the Allentown Railroad Company, was broken open on Sunday, and $112,000 in railroad bonds, checks, and diamond jewelry were stolen! A young clerk in the office was arrested, who confessed the robbery with the exception of the jewelry. The bonds and checks were recovered, and the lad was sent to the city prison to await his trial.

Pure Maple Sugar.

I TAKE pleasure in informing my old customers and others, that my spring supply of Maple Sugar, from the interior of Vermont, has just arrived, fresh from the sugar trees and can be had at my house on French street, and at the Main Store, on Norombega Market. For the information of those unacquainted with this article, I will say that it is wholly Maple, in its purest form made by the farmers of the Green Mountain State, and if it is not equal to the Sugar that is sometimes produced in the State from pine trees and molasses hogsheads, they are not to blame as they have no such facilities there for making it. Sympathize of this Sugar, with at least ½ lbs to the gallon, is also to be had at the store where the Sugar is kept. Price $1.25 per gallon.

"Sugar, 11 Cents per Pound

This Syrup makes a superior sauce for all kinds of Puddings, Buckwheat Cakes &c. It can be made in small quantities in a few minutes by adding a little water with it, and heating it until it melts. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction to all who may use it.

A Word of Warning.

There is nothing more deplorable than recalling the remembrance of a valuable article to how many thousands, by the use of bad and worthless ones, and yet it is often done. Fifteen years ago Hegeman & Co. introduced the Hair Restorer we, under the name of "Odin table Hair Colorine." Its wonderful restorative properties made it immediately popular, and grey and bald heads were like to become a thing of the past when the country was flooded with imitations, the use of which was not only useless, but also truly injurious. The original preparation a scientific combination, mixed with oil and stimulating acids, affects on system a hair wash, while fallacious imitations are made with water, making the hair harsh, dry and frizzy, requiring, after its use, the use of oil or wash to make it look decently. We would therefore advise our readers to buy nothing but the original Hegeman's Hair Coloring or Restorative, which, a reliable—They Will.

American & Foreign Patents

H. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington under the Act of 1837,)

76 State St., oppos to Kilby St.,

BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also, in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into Am'can or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal opinions rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the practicability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that mine is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THEIR PATENT OFFICE than the majority; and my SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, the world add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense patronage of the subscriber during twenty-two years, has enabled them to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of law and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and faithful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,"

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in recommending inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,"

Late Com'r of Patents, 1853.

Mr. E. H. Eddy has obtained for me THIRTEEN patents, and in all cases in which decisions were finally made, he has succeeded in obtaining such construction of the claims as I desired, and in securing the most favorable terms. I cheerfully recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGERT."

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17th, 1858, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on former rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PERRY DAVIS'

Vegetable Pain Killer!

REV. T. ALLEN, writing from Tavoy, Burmah, says:—"Within the past four years I have used and disposed of above five hundred bottles, out right now out. Please send me a fresh supply (through the Boston Agents) as soon as you can, say two hundred bottles. I have not been without myself, and cannot and ought not to be without it, both by Karens and diarrhœa. It has taken it with me into the jungles, and both frequent occasions relieved it in myself and others. One night, while sleeping in an open Zayat, I was awoke by a most excruciating pain in my foot. On examination I found I had been bitten by a Centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief. In less than an hour I was again asleep."

Rev. H. Jaffa Mater, of Bassein, India, writes:—Herewith me I assure you that we prize your Pain Killer very highly. For the first two or three years of our residence in India we were ignorant of its valuable properties, and did not use it; but now would hardly feel safe without it for a single day. Only a few nights since Mrs. Van Meter was stung by a scorpion, and intense pain was instantaneously followed by a sense of numbness of the fingers, followed. By the continued application of the Pain Killer for an hour or more, and at intervals during the night, the alarming symptoms were subdued, and in the morning only a slight soreness was felt in the finger. I gave it in several cases of Fever and Ague, according to directions, and it acted like a charm, breaking it up at once. The Karens have great confidence in it.

Mr. W. L. Carpenter writes, from Calcutta, "Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer is a very valuable medicine, and in this people here have used it extensively, and with great success."

Messrs. Perry Davis & Son—Gentlemen: We have received a shipment of Pain Killer per ship Manilla, and in reference to your Pain Killer we have to say that we have sold it for Europeans in Bombay, Calcutta, Madras, Ceylon, Singapore, Batavia, Hong Kong, Shanghai, Canton, Foochow, Amoy, and China, and have never had a complaint from any one of its not giving satisfaction. Yours truly, HEMMANT & CO.

Bombay, May 11, 1857.

Messrs. P. Davis & Son—Gentlemen: We have received a shipment of 52 boxes of Pain Killer per ship Sea Witch, and in reference to your Pain Killer we have to say that we have sold it for many years, and have never had a complaint from any one of its not giving satisfaction. Yours truly, HEMMANT & CO.

Bombay, May 11, 1857.

Neither of these letters were solicited by us, but were forwarded to us without any knowledge on their part that we were in the habit of receiving letters of this kind. We could show a number of testimonials of the same kind, but we think the above sufficient. Numerous Testimonials from the most prominent men in every part of the country can be seen at our office.

The Honey Blade Grass.

THE results which have been attained, by experiments in the cultivation of this highly important species of product, have awakened an interest among the farming classes, in many sections of the country, to a degree unparalleled in the entire history of our agricultural industry. Especially in regard to its valuable properties, which, at first appeared almost incredible, have now been established beyond the possibility of a doubt, and it is believed, by those best capable of judging of its merits, that its general introduction will add millions of dollars to our agricultural wealth. I have not the space here to enter into details, but will present briefly some of its advantages.

First—It will produce double the weight to the acre, in any soil, of any other kind of grass. From four to six tons per acre is not an uncommon yield, and I am in possession of a farm in this state, sworn to by disinterested and reliable persons, of a yield of over eighteen tons of good dry hay from a single acre, in cultivation where it was not possible to get more than one half the amount from any of the common grasses.

Second—Its superior nutritious and fattening qualities, consequently will sell for a larger price in the market, thus bringing the farmer more than double the return from his acreage that he could obtain from any other forage plant. The hay possesses one third more nutriment than timothy, and has sold for $16 per ton, while the price of timothy was but $10 or $12.

Third—Both hay and seed can be produced from the same crop, the hay being equally valuable as after hay after the seed is taken from it, while the seed is more valuable on the score of steam, than any seed now in use, for poultry, pigs, horses, cattle and sheep, it being a superior substitute for the meal of corn, and must always find a ready sale at a fair price for this purpose.

Fourth—It matures in about two months time, and can be sown on grounds where other crops have failed, either by drouth or other causes, and in the short time, will yield a large return.

Fifth—It is not in northern climates, where over and over again we are cut off by hard winters, that will yield a large crop, but, in those portions of the South where other grasses will not thrive, at all, it will grow very profuse.

Sixth—It will stand all kinds of weather, and, whether in too much wet or dry, the farmer may always rely upon this Honey Blade as sure crop.

These are but other advantages are proved by facts which are endorsed by some of the first agriculturists of the Union, and one which will fail to carry conviction to every intelligent reader.

Having, in Geneva, during the past year, in the purchase of the importation of the pure Honey Blade Seed, I have determined to offer it for sale on such terms as will make it an object for every farmer and planter to interest himself, during the coming season, in its cultivation. It is put up in uniform bags, of about sixteen pounds each, the amount being quite sufficient to seed one acre, and the price is 50 per bag delivered in New York or St. Louis.

Single bags, or less, can be sent to any part of the country as freight or by express, and will be put up, delivered for transportation and the proper arrangements made free of charge.

Each bag is stamped with the Huffington coat of arms, and the following lettering, Honey Blade Huffington, Grass Seed. If we be sold by agents in various sections, the purchaser should be careful of whom they purchase, and insure the pure genuine seed, they are especially cautioned not to purchase the common Hungarian Grass Seed, as it is very far inferior to the Honey Blade.

An interesting pamphlet, containing all of the facts, and full particulars, will be furnished, free of charge, by me or any of my agents, upon application. I will state, as an indication of the mechanical interest which the subject is exciting, that nearly a quarter of a million of copies of this pamphlet have already been applied for.

Parties desiring to secure seed, should order at once, as the quantity on hand is limited amount, contracted for, having been disposed of in advance of receiving such return, by producing seed to supply the demand of farmers and planters for coming another year.

Orders can be sent directly to me, unless in the vicinity of New York, where they will be filled by J. M. Emmons & Co., 406 Broadway, New York, General Agents.

Agents, Seed merchants, General Merchants, and any other parties properly situated, are invited to become agents for the sale of the Honey Blade Seed. Authority, full particulars, and from 50 to 100 pamphlets for distribution, will be furnished either by me or the New York Agency, on receipt of 25 cents, to prepay the package.
